STRIKERS TRY FORCE.

Chicago Railroad Men Resort to Bullets and Blows.

An Agent Is Shot in the Leg from a Passing Train.

And Several Non-Union Men Are Assaulted on the Streets.

CHICAGO, March 1 .- Railroad strikers and their sympathizing friends are getting dangerous. Monday night while John Rayborn, an agent for the Chicago and Western Indians, was sitting in a switch shanty at Forty-sixth street and Stewart avenue, he was shot in the leg by some one on a Fort Wayne train that was passing at the time. About the same time William Crothers, agent for the same Company, was assaulted t Root street and Stewart avenue by unknown persons and was badly hurt.

Jacob Selis and Benjamin Recoryberry, two non-union switch tenders employed by the Western Indiana Helt Line to take the place of strikers, were assaulted last night at Thirty-ninth street and the Western Indiana tracks while engaged in tending the switches at that point by two unknown men.

sells and Recoryberry applied to the police for protection and two officers were sent out make an investigation. Neither of the assaulted men was badly injured, but no trace of their assailants could be found.

WABASH SWITCHMEN PUT OFF.

Every Concession They Ask for Is Denied by the Road. ST. LOUIS, March 1 .- The Grievance Committee of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association of the Wabash system and leased lines was in conference yesterday from 0.30 o'clock in the morning until after 0 o'clock last night with General superintendent H. L. Magee.

The men asked for higher pay for extra work and an increase of wages in yards where but one switch engine is employed. All concessions requested were denied, and the men set for their homes.

The bride's father, Albert S. Lozier, was a resident of Newark in the forties, and went West during the gold fever. During the war he was with a Western regiment, and in 1888 while attending the Grand Army encampment at Denver, he came East and stayed at Lehmann's Hotel. After he went home the Lehmanns handed all mail marked "A. Lozier" to the groom of last night, who opened it in the presence of his father. BISHOPS WERE TARDY.

Their Meeting Adjourned for Lack of a Quorum. At 11 o'clock this morning, the time set for a meeting of the Bishops of the American Protestant Episcopai Church at 28 Lafayette place, there was not a quorum present. After waiting an hour an adjournment was taken until 2 P. M. The meeting is called for the purpose of filling vacancies now existing in certain missionary dioceses, the most important of which are those of China and Japan. The resignation of Bishop Howe, of North Carolina, who is in poor health, will also be acted upon. Bishop Williams, of Connecticut, presides.

Corbett May Take Judgment. Justice Besach, in Supreme Court Cham-bers to-day, modified the injunction which was granted against all creditors of the Manhattan Athletic Club when Receiver Freedman was appointed to take charge of the Club's propert, so far as to permit Otis Corbett to take a judgment against the Club on a note for $153 which he holds.

Welch, counsel for the widow McLachian married Josephine Caldwell July 20, 1890. Mr. Welch drew out that it was in May, 1890, when the Widow Humph-reys told him she was engaged to "Cousin

Dave."

"When did you become engaged to Josephine Calawell?" asked the cross-examiner.

"In May, 1890," replied the defendant.
Asked about his worldly pessessions, the witness said: "I own the house we live in on Fire Island avenue, Babyion, and the house of Ir. Leggatt on Main street. My wife owns a house on Green Park avenue.

That's all."

Q. Where did your wife get that house? A. Got it from me.
Q. When? A. When I engaged to marry her.

UNITED THROUGH UNCLE SAM.

The Lozier Wedding Is the Cuimination of a Romance.

NEWARK, N. J., March 1.—Allen S. Lozier was married here last night by Rev. Dr. Spellinmeyer, to Miss Susies C. Lozier, of Oakland, Cal. The groom is well known as a leading spirit in the Club Vendome and other local organizations, and is a surveyor in this city.

The bride is the daughter of a rich merchant in Oakland, where the couple have gone for their honeymoon. They are not related in any way, although their names are the same. It was this similarity which served to unite them, however.

The bride's father, Albert S. Lozier, was a resident of Newark in the forties, and went West during the gold.

This concluded the evidence. The case

William Horton, of 27 Madison street William Horton, of 27 Madison street, and James Tracy, of 49 Wilson street, Booklyn, were held in $2,000 each in the Tombs Police Court to-day on the charge of robbing Patrick Duffy, a longshoreman, of $5 on Park Row at 9 o'clock last night.

Duffy said he and another longshoreman, Thomas McAuliffe, were passing through Park Row, and he had taken the $5 bill from his pocket, when he was attacked by Horton, Tracy and four others, who subsequently escaped, and was knocked down, beaten and robbed. McAuliffe corroborated his story. The complainant and his witness were committed to the House of Detention.

THE CLARKIN'S COMPROMISE

End of Litigation Between the Ex-

Policeman and His Wife. An order was granted to-day by Judge Freedman, of the Superior Court, dis-continuing the action which was brought over a year ago by ex-Policeman Thos. Clarkin against his wife, Bridget, to re-Clarkin against his wife. Bridget, to recover from her property which he had deeded to her while he was on the force.

He claimed that he had only transferred the property to her temporarily, with the understanding that it was to be returned to him. She declared that he gave it to her for the benefit of herself and children.

After a trial before Judge McAdam, the case was decided in favor of Mr.
Clarkin. A compromise and settlement has been arrived at between the parties, and the lien which was placed on the property has been withdrawn.

threatened to have him arrested for annoying her.

He went with her to the East Fifty-first street station and made a countercharge against her of soliciting.

Buring his testimony Tallon appeared exceedingly nervous and excited, and when cross-examined by Assistant District-Attorney Townsend his agitation visibly increased.

He said that when his alleged solicitation by Mrs. Coleman took place it was about a octock in the evening. He and a man named Peter Greeley, sometimes known as "Horace," were on their way from Third avenue and Sixty-third street to the Museum of Natural History, and at Fifth avenue and Sixty-third street they met Mrs. Coleman.

Tallon said to Mr. Townsend that all Mrs. Coleman said when she solicited him was:

"come down to the house and I'll give you the letters."

"come down to the house and I'll give you the letters."
Later, in reply to questions by the Recorder, I'alion said that Mrs. Coleman had made a remark that justified him in charging her with soliciting him. He desied that he had ever piaced her under arrest.

Tallon denied that Nov. 12, 1888, he was obliged by Justice Kilbreth to pay $5 a weekfor the support of Lavinia Fenton's child.
In reply to questions by the Recorder, Tellon identified his signature to the affidavit upon which the alleged perjury is predicated, and while admitting that he did not see Mrs. Coleman "importuning men," as stated in the affidavit insisted that she had asked him to accompany her to her house for immoral purposes.

Park Policeman Shandley remembered seeing "Horace" Greeley cooling his heels at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fourth street after Talion deserted him and went home with Mrs. Coleman on the night in question. Mr. Shandley prespired freely while giving his testimony. Matthew C. Thomas Mitchell, of 326 East Thirty-sixth street, corroborated the testimony regarding a bacehanailan trip Tallon took with Janitor Welsel on the night of Nov. 14 last, but wouldn't swear that it wasn'to n the 16th, the night Mrs. Coleman was locked up.

Polleeman Patrick Fitzgibbons, of the municipal force, had seen Mrs. Coleman in Tallon's company frequently, but knew nothing about her. To Mr. Townsend he admitted that Tallon was a witness for him once when he got into trouble with a woman.

With Morris Davis, jr., of 34 Macdongall street, who had seen Mrs. Coleman Tallon worked there, the defense rested, in rebuttal, Mr. Townsend called Caroline Weisel, wife of the janitor of Mrs. Colemans flat, who testified that her husband had accompanied Tallon on the before-mentioned drinking trip on Wednesday evening, Nov. 16, last.

There was much interest in the race, although quick time was not expected. This is the last trip of the City of Paris from Queenstown, and it was because she will never again meet her old rival in a transatiantic race that steamship men and the public generally were anxious to learn which got into port first.

Mary T. Upington Seeks to Recover City Lots Worth $60,000.

Justice Patterson, of the Sapreme Court, took up just before recess to-lay a suit brought by Mary T. I pingston to recover from Archbishop Corrigan her interest in about thirty-two city lots on the Boston road in the Annexed District. The lots are worth 860,00.

The plaintiff is a grandniece of Marie Davy, who, in 1861, trainsferred the property in suit to Archbishop Hughes.

The deed contained a covenant requiring the grantee to consecrate the ground and erect the church within a reasonable term.

The property has passed to the present Archbishop, as the head of the church in this city, and it is cleained that the covenant has not been fulfilled. The suit involves a delicate point of law, and the Judge said he would give it further consideration after recess.
